Introduction

Good governance is key to rule of law. And while issues of corruption, transparency, rule of law and good governance are always in the spotlight, there remains a lack of understanding and systemic problems that hardly receive sufficient coverage. ACTION SEE project aims to raise awareness of such challenges by facilitating cooperation among civic organisations and consolidated strategic efforts for representation.

The project aims to increase the inclusion of civic society and media organisations in decision making processes and the creation of public opinion and policies, as well as to raise the capacity of civic societies to address sensitive issues.

It will provide support for targeted advocacy campaigns and policy initiatives that will contribute to achieving the following overall objectives:

- Enhancing the involvement of civil society and media organisations in the creation of public opinion, policymaking and participation in the decision-making mechanisms;
- Increasing capacities of civil society to build its constituencies and tackle bold issues.

ACTION SEE announce this Request for Applications to provide support to civil society organizations to promote good governance and rule of law through a grant scheme of 243,000 EUR awarding approximately 25-30 small grants to CSOs from Macedonia, Serbia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Montenegro, Albania and Kosovo (5-6 grants per country), through the following two types of grants, in the range between EUR 6.000 to EUR 8.000 per grant:

1. Support to local CSOs to perform initiatives within one country.
2. Support to CSOs to perform initiatives between two or more countries from the region.

Grant features

The Small Grants Scheme will provide support for targeted media-supported advocacy campaigns and policy initiatives that will contribute to achieving the overall ACTION SEE goals, transposed to the national circumstances of the targeted country. The grants will target primarily smaller CSOs in order to provide a learning experience and help them build their capacities to fundraise and subsequently participate in grant calls by the EU and other donors. As part of the application process, the applicants will be provided with mentoring assistance to develop their project proposals to the level of full applications with detailed action plans. Furthermore, partnership with at least one media will be required. Media organisations will be directly included in the capacity building activities and advocacy initiatives to further motivate them to become active actors in promoting and initiating a public debate on rule of law and good governance.

The initiatives supported by the Small Grants Scheme are expected to focus on tackling rule of law and good governance issues, in particular anti-corruption, transparency, and access to information, data protection and use of public funds, within the following targeted areas:

ACTION SEE will award grants competitively based on the quality of proposals and relevance to the overall Action’s objective.

Technical Assistance and Networking

Once the grants are awarded, Metamorphosis will monitor grant implementation and provide technical assistance to all project grantees based on their specific levels of competence. To facilitate the monitoring process, coaches will be appointed by each Action Partner in each of the country during the grant implementation and reporting phase.

Technical assistance will be provided through tailor-made coaching/mentoring for grantees to strengthen their capacities and to respond to their specific needs, including financial management and reporting, public relations, organizational development, monitoring and evaluation, etc. Capacity building will be organized for the grantees and other CSOs on writing policy papers, government research, oversight and advocacy, and thematic training (EU accession process, public spending, decentralization and division of competences). Reporting on issues related to anti-corruption, transparency and access to information, data protection, use of public funds and fight against organised crime and human trafficking will be part of the training curricula and will particularly involve media organizations in the network.

ACTION SEE will support grantees to develop and implement advocacy plans and build coalitions and issue- based networks. ACTION SEE will organize networking meetings of grantees for exchange of information, experience and lessons learned, discussion on actual problems, possible ways of resolving them, and possibilities for CSOs cooperation in addressing issues of common interest.
